
One simultaneous two-sided 95% participant-t family across all 120 endpoints (df=29).
Acquisition lags retain the causal filter's 64-ms delay; these are not corrected neural latencies.
Whole-sequence adjustment is descriptive; the failed original R control is unchanged.